

Novara Law Acquires Feuer Bruening, P.C. of Troy

07.28.2021

Novara Tesija Catenacci McDonald & Baas, PLLC (Novara Law) announces the acquisition of Feuer Bruening, P.C., a Troy, Mich.-based firm known for its defense of insurance companies, health care professionals, businesses, and police officers. Lawyers Scott Feuer and Jennifer Bruening will join the firm as partners in Insurance Defense and Litigation effective August 1, 2021.

"We are pleased to welcome Scott and Jennifer to the firm," Michael Novara, Managing Partner & CEO said. "Their combined, and diverse, experience are a great fit for our firm and a true added benefit for our clients."

Scott Feuer has 36 years of experience in defending insurance companies, their insureds and self-insured entities. His practice concentrates on the defense of high exposure litigation involving complex medical malpractice cases, catastrophic personal injury cases and fraudulent claims. He also handles a wide variety of civil defense matters including professional licensing, police misconduct, wrongful incarceration, liquor liability and general liability.

Jennifer Bruening has nearly two decades' experience in litigation and has spent more than 15 years defending insurance companies and their insureds, including general liability, liquor liability, and medical malpractice. Her practice includes all aspects of civil litigation and includes professional licensing, defense of civil rights claims, police misconduct, and first- and third-party automobile liability.

Novara Tesija Catenacci McDonald & Baas, PLLC has roots in the Detroit area for 40 years and also serves clients from offices in Las Vegas and Toledo, Ohio. It is the 10th largest firm in Southeast Michigan and 14th largest overall in the state according to Crain's Detroit Business Largest Law Firms of 2021. More about Novara Law can be found at www.novaralaw.com.

PROFESSIONALS

Scott L. Feuer

PRACTICE AREAS

Insurance Defense

Litigation